Protection
matters

Alongside those who need it most

For years, our mission has been to protect what matters most.

But protection goes beyond systems and infrastructure: it also means caring for people. That is why we chose to look beyond our business and support those who face far greater challenges every day.

Thanks to the commitment of the Galantucci family — Luigi, Rosanna and Vincenzo — this vision comes to life through two support projects in Ethiopia and Kenya.

Giving their dreams a future, together

Thanks to the "I Love Ethiopia" project and Gielle's support, every day it is possible to ease suffering, treat illnesses, and bring concrete help where it is needed most.

A single gesture can turn into hope, a presence can change a life.

Your support can also make a difference: together we can provide care, education, and new opportunities, giving Ethiopian children the chance to grow, smile, and build their own future.

Makimei Children's Home

In 2023, during a trade fair in Kenya, the Gielle team discovered the Makimei Children's Home, an orphanage that welcomes orphaned and vulnerable children every day.

The new building under construction

Thanks to Gielle's significant contribution, the construction of a new, larger and more welcoming facility is currently underway, designed to host a greater number of children and to provide improved and more dignified living conditions for their daily life and development.

Gielle's commitment

- Medical care for the children at the facility
- School fees and teaching materials
- Daily support
- Support for the construction of the new headquarters

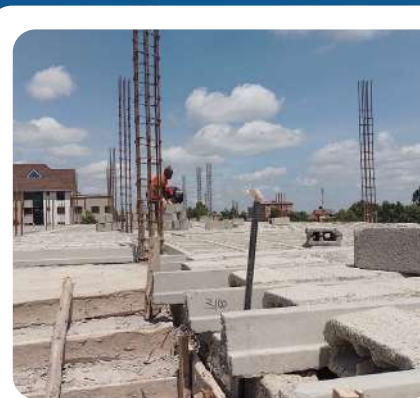

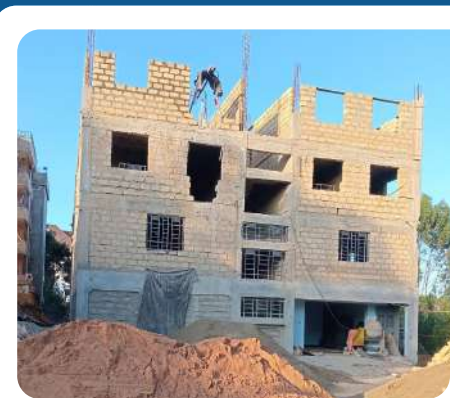

Every child has the right to grow up in a safe environment, surrounded by care and attention. Through a shared commitment, we can turn need into hope and guide them toward a future filled with real opportunities. Together, we can be part of this change.

A refuge of hope and welcome

Thanks to the Makimei Children's Home project and Gielle's support, it is possible every day to provide shelter, care, and concrete assistance to orphaned and vulnerable children in Kenya. A safe place can become a new opportunity, and a gesture of solidarity can turn into real hope.

Your support can also make a difference: together we can provide medical care, education, and new opportunities, helping these children grow with dignity and build their own future.
